

RevSource Solutions Partners with CompuMail to Seamlessly Integrate and Accelerate Online Payments Utilizing RevExpress

RevSource Solutions and CompuMail partner to seamlessly provide RevExpress to accelerate and increase online payments over 300 percent, providing increased revenue and efficiencies for customers.

Muncie, IN – November 30, 2011– RevSource Solutions, a leader in online personalized payment solutions for the collection industry and healthcare, announced a partnership with CompuMail, a leader in collection letter solutions, to seamlessly integrate customers with RevExpress, increasing and accelerating online payments for collections and early out self-pay. RevExpress' personalized websites provide a simplified approach for online payments and custom branded websites for customers and their clients.

“We have seen great success and proven efficiencies with current CompuMail customers taking advantage of RevExpress,” commented Chris Cochran, CompuMail sales manager. “By seamlessly integrating RevExpress with our current offerings, we are able to offer customers more efficient and effective methods to increase revenue with little to no change management, while increasing their bottom line.”

“CompuMail consistently creates and explores new technologies that improve the collections process and increase efficiencies” said Jason Rhodes, CompuMail sales manager. “As we have followed the increased productivity and proven results in revenue generation through efficiencies by RevExpress, we integrated with the most productive solution for online payments available today.”
